

A WORD ABOUT OUR OWNERS

ROYSTAN PAIS, MBA, FACHE

Roystan enjoys spending time with seniors. After working with several large communities, he desired to create a unique space where residents can receive more personalized care. Growing up in India where seniors are regarded as a wealth of knowledge and life experiences with incredible stories to tell, he believes taking care of those who once cared for us is one of the highest honors in life.

Roystan received his MD in India. After practicing medicine for a few years in India, he moved to the US. Later, he received an MBA from Indiana University. He is also the Executive Director at the Bluffs, a non-profit senior living community in Columbia. Prior to that, he served as Director of Homes for Missouri Veterans Commission where he was in-charge of 7 veterans nursing homes in Missouri. He also teaches healthcare management to Indiana University graduate students.
